

Walking the grounds ...

Tim Anderson and Michael Dennis, both construction quality assurance representatives with Europe District, test out some new equipment at the new physical fitness center being built on Wiesbaden Army Airfield, Germany. Each field office has been provided one of these kits to help ensure customers get the value added quality of the Corps. To read more about how Europe District is working with customers to accommodate their needs, see page 4.