AROUND EUROPE

Army lodge program passes milestone with Ansbach lodge groundbreaking

URLAS, Germany - Construction broke ground on an $8.8 million, 26-room Army lodge at the U.S. Army Garrison Ansbach's post in Urlas recently, marking the midway point in the largest Army lodging initiative in Europe, ever.

In one large push in 2005, the Family and Morale, Welfare and Recreation Command funded five new Army lodges through nonappropriated funds at a cost of about $112 million, bringing 639 new hotel rooms to garrisons in Europe.

Increase in school construction means a different mindset for USACE project delivery teams

WIESBADEN, Germany – Over the next four years, Department of Defense school projects in Europe will bring almost $300 million in renovations and construction projects to the Army engineers in Europe.

Because of the DoDDS-Europe's sudden upsurge in projects, the Europe District has worked on developing more focused project delivery teams to effectively manage the program, said Doug Delaney, the District's DoDDS program manager.

Special video report: Army engineers complete center for disabled children in Serbia

VARVARIN, Serbia - By Western standards, the $444,000 special-needs community center may seem pretty ordinary. But to the local community - and especially the children who go to the center - it is anything but. Before this facility, the town had no facility for children with disabilities. ...
